GET READY FOR THE BIG GAME AND THE TECHNOLOGY THAT YOU NEED TO MAKE IT HAPPEN!

Are you ready for the technology changes coming in 2009?

Digital Television (DTV) is a new type of broadcasting technology that will transform television. Because DTV is delivered digitally, the television signal is virtually free of interference. And because DTV is more efficient than analog, broadcasters are able to offer television with improved quality pictures and surround sound. DTV will soon replace today's analog television broadcasting system. DTV is more versatile and efficient than analog television and allows stations to broadcast more programming using less spectrum.

DTV broadcasts are digital and allow many more options, including Dolby® Digital 5.1 Surround Sound, just like a DVD. With a digital converter box, the digital surround sound will be converted to analog for your current television or home theater surround system.

Even with a digital-to-analog converter box, your current analog television will not be capable of taking full advantage of DTV. To enjoy the full picture quality and benefits of DTV, you may want to purchase a new DTV set that is better suited for this new technology.

Watch every touchdown and penalty with complete clarity. Don't let your TV become outdated before the big game, get started on your new home theater at The Home Depot and get all the finishing details at homedepot.com.
